

“Every woman
has opportunities
for growth
and new possibilities.”

– ROBIN RIVINUS, RN, MS,
CERTIFIED NURSE MIDWIFE, WILLIAMSTOWN MEDICAL ASSOCIATES

“I have taught in academic settings and practiced medicine in Dallas, Cleveland, and Boston. I have learned that throughout a woman’s life she has opportunities for increased wellness and satisfaction. Good health care can be an important part of that. Here, I can form meaningful relationships with my patients and help them develop wellness skills. The multispecialty team approach helps me provide excellent, comprehensive women’s health.

“Whether I am working with a teen, a woman and family looking for the experience of a healthy and joyful pregnancy and birth, a postpartum woman in need of emotional and psychological support, or an older woman adjusting to changes in medical and functional needs, my goal is to see the person within the context of her life. This includes not simply specific medical concerns, but also her lifestyle, nutrition, emotional health, and her personal and community support. In other words, all the parts which make her whole.”
